

Rabbits- Home Learning W/C 11/05/20

Dear Rabbits,

I hope you have all had an exciting week and are safe.

This week I have been trying to keep myself busy at home and look for more home learning ideas for you all. What have you all been doing? Mrs Binoy sent out a newsletter on Monday and I loved seeing all the pictures of your smiling faces. Please keep sending in your pictures as it makes me and the other staff smile!

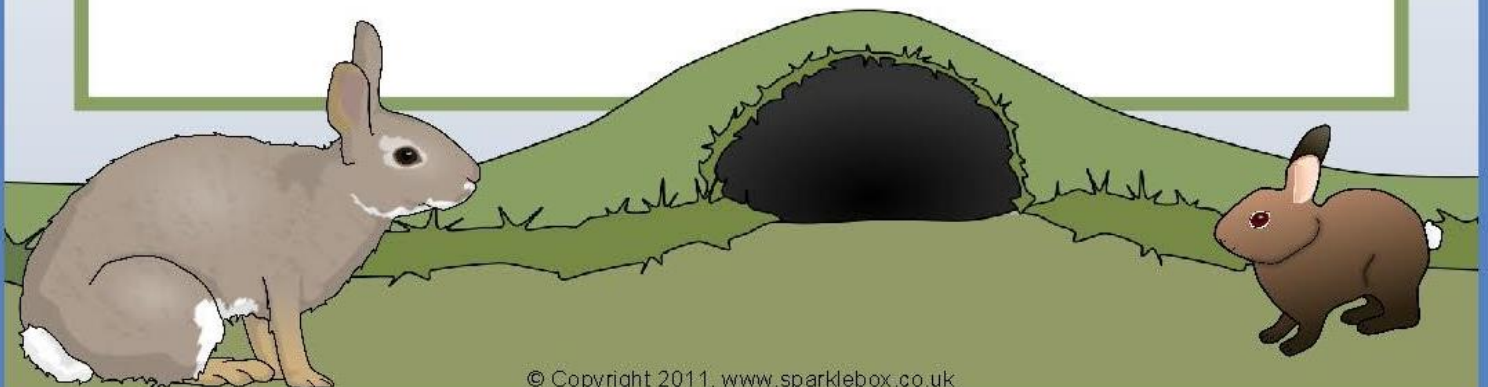

We are all still meeting online on a Wednesday too. It is nice seeing everyone. Have any of you been learning new technological skills? I wonder if any of you have been video calling your family or friends who you don't live with? I know it's not the same as seeing them in person but it is a very nice way of keeping in touch.

Last week I told you what I have been doing to keep fit and I am still keeping up with this. I really hope you are all keeping fit and being active! Even if you can't go out for a walk, you can search 'Cosmic Yoga' on YouTube. I find this really relaxing! Try to take part in a different Cosmic Yoga activity each day.

I hope you are enjoying doing all of the different activities and getting used to Purple Mash. Please do not worry if you are not able to do everything on this sheet or on Purple Mash. Spending time with family at home is just as important.

Love from Mrs Trickey.

Phonics / Reading / Writing

With a grown up, pour some flour, rice or lentils into a shallow tray or plate. (Or even just use soil in your garden?)

Grown ups - you will need to tell your child a letter, digraph, trigraph or tricky word and ask them to 'write it' in the food or soil using their finger.

How many can you write correctly in 10 minutes?
Do this activity each day and keep a record - hopefully you will see you are getting faster!

Make sure you are tuning in to the daily Phonics session at this website which run from 10 am - 11am.

Nursery - Tune in to the 11am session if you want to see what you will be learning when you start Reception in September!

Reception - tune in to the 10 am session to make your blending skills even better! If this is too tricky you can tune in to the 11am session.

Once a day, go out in your garden and say what you can see. Then have a go at spelling the words. Rock = r-o-ck. Do you use the right letters when spelling?

I'm so pleased to be able to share this handy website with you where you can read books online for free!

Please choose 1 book to read this week with a grown up. Once you have read it, talk about what you liked and did not like about it. Can you write a book review?

"My favourite part was when....."

"I did not like it when....."

Your challenge is to use the word because when telling your grown up (or writing) your favourite or least favourite parts.

Maths

Play this game to practise counting, ordering and matching numbers to 10. Or do it with objects around your house!

When you have done that, you can then practise counting up to 20. This can be by collecting sticks, leaves or stones on a walk. You could practise while playing hide & seek, singing number songs and playing board games.

(Reception - You could even practise writing numbers to 20 if you feel really brave)

1. Get a grown up to show you all the coins in their purse/wallet/at home. Can you name them all? Are there any you're not sure about? Can you count it all up?

(This is a quick refresher video on the coins you might find at home)

2. Place the coins on some paper and draw around them. What is the largest coin? Can you order them from smallest to largest?
3. Practise adding different coins up - what is 2p + 2p? What is 5p + 2p? 10p + 1p? What do two 10ps equal?

Nursery - go around your garden and collect objects. How many leaves do you find? How many stones? What did you find more of?

Reception - Go on this handy website, choose the week and learn about a variety of Maths problems. Most weeks are based around a book (you don't need the book to do the activities).

There are some useful videos I really recommend you watch to help you.

Purple Mash

Log in to Purple Mash and have a go at these activities from the home page

- Click on 'English' and then scroll to the bottom where it says 'Simple City' - have a go at designing your dream city. What would you name it?
- Reception -> Click on 'English' and then 'Phonics'. Choose Phase 3 (or 4) to complete the flashcards and cloze tasks.
- Click on 'Art' and then 'Fairytale' paint project. Can you draw the different items from the stories you know?
- Click on 'Mathematics' and then choose 'Maths City 1'. Complete the different activities.
